

THE SKINNY - Week Thirteen (Outside Nine)

OBSERVATIONS FROM IN FRONT OF THE PACK: (Greg Waldie)

Our league is usually slower than the last day of school, but we were in the first group and what a delight that was...at least until I hacked it all over on #s 8 and 9, then it seemed like we played 11 holes.

I had to leave the clubhouse earlier than anticipated, so I have limited material for this edition. Thank you to those of you who passed items along!

OBSERVATIONS FROM VARIOUS ROVING REPORTERS:

Well, I had plenty of bad shots, so they start to blend together, but I think it went something like:

I pushed my tee shot on #5 to the right and it starts to slice as it passes a cluster of trees. I said something like "well it made it past those trees, so it should be open after that....."

Also note that given the quality of my play up to that point, I don't think any of our playing group wanted to be within 50 yards of me when I tried to hit the shot ☺

What Matt failed to mention was that he hit his shot cleanly back to middle of the fairway...a good recovery...

FASHION CORNER:

It was reported by Dave Madill that he actually wore normal golf gear according to normal people. (Of course, there is no photographic proof of this)

QUOTE(S) OF THE WEEK:

Sue Reed stated, "I was at the Tiger game where a player was traded in the middle of an at bat."
Maybe Tom Burnie better keep his head up...

"Nice putt!!" This was quite cruel of me, but an absolute no-brainer. Doug "2MMs&NNs" Kammann had just hit his approach putt on #7, 18 feet off line (I'm not exaggerating).

THIS WEEK IN GOLF:

HOLE PRIZES:

Most putts on #7 (4) – Art Kelley
Closest to the pin in three on #8 – Rusty "A Playa" Meska

NASTY GOLFER AWARD:

Here is Don Simon taking his lumps with a smile on his face. He smartly made sure he wasn't going to be a back-to-back winner of this award, by getting a sub for this week.

GOLF HUMOR:

"That's the only time all day poor Ed's put two shots together."

SKINS BREAKDOWN:

- Hole 1: A few pars on this starting hole and no blood.....NO SKIN OUT!
Hole 2: Troy "Boy" Burnie makes a birdie here and wins a Skin and a Net Skin
Hole 3: Back-to-back birdies by Troy, but he was covered by Madill.....NO SKIN OUT!
Hole 4: Todd Gibbs birdies here to win a Skin and Katie Bye wins a Net Skin

Hole 6: A few pars here.....NO SKIN OUT!
Hole 7: Pars here and one belonged to Shannon Beebe who won a Net Skin
Hole 8: Two birdies here by Walker and Taylor cancelling each other both ways..... NO SKIN OUT!
Hole 9: Plenty of pars, so no Skin here, but a Net Skin by Mike Weatherwax

Poker Hand: Vedder and McKenney had full-houses (5s over 4s), so no poker hand share.

Final Tally: 27 players in the game for a total pot of $54/6 = $9.00 for each share and $18.00 for Troy

Thanks for participating in the Skins game!
