

THE SKINNY (Late Edition) - Week Three (Inside Nine)

OBSERVATIONS FROM THE 19th Hole: (Greg Waldie)

Hey, we were rained out on the North Nasty...what a shame.

It was good to see the three-person team of Simon/Schomisch/Nelson actually fielded a full team last Thursday!

Did you know that Monday was National Accounting Day? I thought it would be appropriate to add an accountant joke. So here goes: How can you tell when the chief accountant is getting soft? When he actually listens to marketing before saying no.

QUOTE(S) OF THE WEEK:

Mr. Nice guy, Matt Moran, got into the spirit of things as we sat in the clubhouse last Thursday. Carl Bond had just gotten on my case for ordering a personal pizza and suggested his fruit-plate was a much healthier choice. Matt couldn't resist commenting, "Yeah, if you are playing in the women's league." (Sorry ladies, he just got caught up in the moment and it was barely audible.)

OBSERVATIONS FROM VARIOUS ROVING REPORTERS:

Poor Bob Murphy! Not only does he have to overcome the law of the golf gods, but also Murphy's law. That easily explains the reason he hit three different trees on his way to the seventh green. Word has it that he succeeded in missing the tree directly ahead of him each time, but the next one got him. By his later account, he hit six trees in all on his way to Nasty Golfer of the Week.

Speaking of trees...a roving reporter got quite a laugh out of the perils faced by Tom "The Prez" Burnie who found his ball in the thick trees, to the left of #6 green. According to this unnamed source, he disappeared into those trees and then a "thwack" was heard...and @#$%^&*@#. Then... another "thwack" and another blue streak. No word yet whether he re-appeared.

Speaking of poor...how about poor Mike Weatherwax. He didn't really want to be out there on the golf course, but gave in, to do Jeff Kroupa a favor. He was also fresh off a dreamcation where he went through spring training with former Detroit Tigers. Unfortunately, swinging like the pitch came in at the letters isn't all that effective on the golf course.

And... poor Mike had to put up with "Mother Kroupa". Even across a full fairway, you could hear "Mommy Dearest" saying "Put that 3-iron away!"

I do have to give "Kreapa" credit for some prodigious drives and pretty solid play last Thursday. He was probably only 40 yards from #2-green and hit his tee shot into the wind and almost to the 150 on #4. I may have to recant my comment in the Week Zero & One Skinny about Jeff's "hearsay drive".

It sounds like Koz was thinking of "The Farm" when he tried to "take out" some of the competition...but I guess he just "winged" the Autoowners guy in the leg.

Andrew "Knickers" Rademacher hit his tee shot all of 50 yards off #5. He followed that with a 250 yard

5-iron for a ho-hum par.

THIS WEEK IN GOLF:

HOLE PRIZES:

Mike Longstreet was Closest to the 150 yard marker on #7
Carl Bond had the most Greens in Regulation

NASTY GOLFER AWARD:

What can you expect when you have so much working against you?

I wasn't kidding when I said Matt liked his new furniture. He hasn't even handed off the prize trophy to this week's lucky winner!

SKINS BREAKDOWN:

Hole 1: Candace Schomisch wins a Net Skin on the opener

Hole 2: Art Kelley wins a Net Skin here

Hole 3: Two deuces here by Waldie and Perfitt and Larry wins a Net Skin

Hole 4: Several pars on this one.....NO SKIN OUT!

Hole 5: More pars here.....NO SKIN OUT!

Hole 6: Three birdies on this one by Barnas, Bond, and Laban.....NO SKIN OUT!

Hole 7: Apparently Tom Burnie did reappear and made a nice birdie here for a Skin and a Net Skin win

Hole 8: Plenty of pars here.....NO SKIN OUT!

Hole 9: Two birdies on the closer by Bond and Troy, but Katie Bye wins a Net Skin

Poker Hand: There were two full-house hands of 6s over 4s (Moran & Bartlett)...NO POKER HAND OUT!

Final Tally: 26 players in the game for a total pot of $52/6 = $8.67 each share and $17.34 for Tom!

Thanks for participating in the Skins game!
