

THE SKINNY - Week Seven (Outside Nine)

OBSERVATIONS FROM A PACKED AND BOISTEROUS CLUBHOUSE: (Greg Waldie)

Just when I thought my par-shooting partner was never going to win a match, along comes the league patsies. They've been an easy touch for the rest of the league and they continued their "corpse" yoga pose for us. So, I can't help but take advantage of some of the shenanigans of our round in this edition of the Skinny.

As I entered the clubhouse, there seemed to be an unusual focus on something toward the middle of the table. At first, I thought it was just the normal group of guys ogling the cards that are used to select the poker hand holes, but I soon realized I was mistaken. It was Koz doing card tricks. He had the crowd mesmerized and there was some serious oohing and aahing going on.

QUOTE(S) OF THE WEEK:

As the oohing and aahing continued in the clubhouse, Doug Kammann asked a very pertinent question. "Why don't you play golf this well?" he asked Koz.

With the patsies, it started on #1, "I thought it was a big bass." This was Dave Madill commenting on Sandie "Taylo" Taylor's third shot that found the water on the right.

On about the 3rd hole, Taylo asked, "Do we play the crik hole on this nine?" It was pretty clear that #8 was not on her top 10 list.

And...one more TaylorMade story...after scoring a couple of big numbers, Sandie was thinking she could be in the money in the Skins game. Then suddenly she blurted out, "No more Shirts???" (for those of you who do not know what this means...prior to Net Skins, two seasons ago, we used to play a high and low score game called Shirts & Skins) Even young minds have senior moments.

Art Kelley was determined to get a little press this week, so he commented to Howard, "I see you have your uniform on." (Meaning his typical dark slacks and black shirt) To which Howard responded, "I have 23 of these shirts!"

And, we'll end the quotes with short- timer Todd Gibbs who asked "How far did we drop?" (speaking of the league standings)

OBSERVATIONS FROM VARIOUS ROVING REPORTERS:

Someone told a story that Katie ByeBye hit a tree on #2 and almost decapitated herself.

It was amusing to watch Madilla Gorilla standing in the rough on #6 waiting to hit his second shot. First a little background info...Dave doesn't typically take long to pull the trigger...he has already hit into the Laban group on #6 green twice this year...and once again, he was waiting for the Laban group to clear the green. This time, he was able to control himself.

Someone told a story about Candi "LS" Schomisch pulling out her new RBZ driver and acting as though that club would swing itself. In fact, there was a suggestion that she was "swinging like a girl".

Sources reported that Rob Earley hit a screamer on #9 that ricocheted off the left green tee marker directly OB.

FASHION CORNER:

By the way, the two sharp dressed guys from last week are...Tom & Jerry (that sounds familiar??)

Dave Madill was concerned about his hands sweating and came up with an ingenious way of keeping a towel handy. As he put it, "You watch...people will be doing it next week!" Look for this fashion trend across the country...and it started in our league! (I got most of your head, Dave)

THIS WEEK IN GOLF:

HOLE PRIZES:

Low Gross on Sisters (#4 & #5) - McKenney, Bond, Perfitt (8)
Longest Putt on #9 – Jerry Laban

NASTY (MESSY) GOLFER AWARD:

Chad Ghantous is a runaway winner of this week's Nasty Golfer Award. He looks pretty proud of his accomplishment below. Not only is his golf game a little messy, but also his eating habits. That is mustard all over his white shorts. Maybe some mustard will end up on that trophy!

SKINS BREAKDOWN:

Hole 1: Bryan McKenney came out firing with a nice 3 on this opener and wins a Skin

Hole 2: Candi makes a nice par here for a net 2 and wins a Net Skin

Hole 3: Katie Bye makes a net 1 for a Net Skin win

Hole 4: Pars rule here.....NO SKIN OUT!

Hole 5: A couple of birdies by McKenney and Perfitt.....NO SKIN OUT!
